PEACE IN ASIA MINOR.

BRITISH NEGOTIATING AGREEMENT WITH TURKS.

Paris, July 7.

This evening's papers state that Sir John Harrington, commander-in-chief at Constantinople, has left for Ankara with a view to negotiating an agreement with the Turks. The French Government cordially approves and has urged Reichenau now in Paris to visit London.

ALARMIST REPORTS UNWARRANTED.

London, July 7.

It is generally reported that Sir John Harrington will meet Mustapha Kemal at a Black Sea port and hear the latter's proposals concerning them to the Allied High Commissioners. Sir John Harrington has been instructed to express Britain's indignation at the shameful treatment of British prisoners. The meeting is the result of Kemal's request for a personal interview. Meanwhile it is authoritatively declared that alarming reports as regards the situation are not warranted. It is true that the Kemalists have occupied Ismid but British circles do not believe that Kemal is likely to attack the Allies at Constantinople.

IRISH PEACE MOVE.

GENERAL SMUTS HAS LONG AUDIENCE WITH KING.

London, July 7.

General Smuts had a long audience with the King regarding Ireland and afterwards proceeded to Downing Street to attend the Imperial Conference which was occupied entirely with foreign affairs. Nothing was settled about General Smuts revisiting Ireland but Lord Middleton will attend the conference in Dublin on July 8 to explain the attitude of the cabinet, also to define the attitude of the Ulster Premier, Sir James Craig. There were no conversations in London to-day on the subject of Ireland.

GUERRILLA WARFARE CONTINUES.

London, July 7.

While the Dublin area is quiet during the peace discussions, guerrilla warfare against the Crown Forces elsewhere in Ireland proceeds unabated. Fourteen police were killed and 20 injured and one military was killed and five wounded. There were 25 ambulances of police and military patrols who generally routed the Sinn Feiners.

ANOTHER AUSTRALIAN VICTORY.

LANCASHIRE BEATEN BY AN INNINGS AND EIGHT.

AN EXTRAORDINARY FINISH.

London, July 8.

The weather at Manchester was sunny. There were 12,000 spectators. The wicket was good. The ground was duly decorated. The Prince of Wales, who is touring Lancashire, visited the ground in the afternoon and was received by Lord Derby, president of the club. Australia made 284 runs, Ryder and Hendry scoring 56 and 51 respectively. James Tyldesley took five wickets for 87 runs; and Parkin five for 89. Lancashire made 184 runs. Barnes and Sharp scored 58 and 65 respectively. Gregory took five wickets for 59 runs, and Malley four for 77. There was an extraordinary finish. The last six wickets fell for eleven runs. The Australians won by an innings and eight runs.

Hampshire won by an innings; 100 runs and Yorkshire by an innings and 154 runs. Gloucester by 97 runs; and Kent by eight wickets.

TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

GRADUAL EXPANSION OF BRITISH EXPORTS.

The gradual expansion of United Kingdom exports to Russia since the signature of the Anglo-Russian trading agreement was shown by Mr. Stanley Baldwin, President of the Board of Trade, in the House of Commons, who stated that our exports to Russia were valued at £2,000 in April and £31,000 in June, exclusive of large consignments to the Baltic States exported again to Russia.

STEEL PRICES DROP.

COMPETITION IN THE UNITED STATES.

STABBED WITH SCISSORS.

WOMAN LOSES EYE.

MAN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Yesterday afternoon Magistrate Orme committed for trial at the forthcoming Criminal Sessions, a Chinese sailor charged with having stabbed a woman in the left eye with a pair of scissors on June 16.

The defendant was alleged to have demanded $3.50 from the woman and when she refused to comply, threatened to sell her daughter whom he had placed in the care of an aged woman in Third Street. This threat he carried out, and later when he again visited the woman, there was a terrible scene. The defendant took a pair of scissors from his pocket and stabbed the woman in the eye. He escaped, but the following morning gave himself up to the police.

The woman's evidence, having been taken at the previous hearing, the only witness for the prosecution heard yesterday, was Dr. W. B. A. Moore, Superintendent of the Government Civil Hospital who said that the woman had an incised wound in the left eyeball and eyelid. The eye became inflamed and had to be removed.

After the police had given evidence regarding the defendant's surrender at No. 7 Police Station, and his dramatic confession of the crime, the case for the Crown was closed.

The defendant pleaded "guilty" at the opening of the case but later said that he had only beaten the woman, somebody else having stabbed her. He now made a statement to the Magistrate, in which he again changed his story, attributing the stabbing to an accident.

He said he married the woman six years ago; her late husband died in debt, and to repay the money, the woman decided to become a prostitute. He heard that she intended to go to Siam and, fearing that she would try to take the child with her he called upon her. He also tried to get money from her for the child's maintenance. They had a quarrel; the woman picked up a pair of scissors and tried to stab him. He took them away from her and she knocked against the scissors and so received the injury. "As soon as I saw blood coming from her face," continued the defendant, "I went downstairs." He was afterwards told that the woman had a sweetheart who would probably seek to be avenged on him so he gave himself up to the police.

As he had any witness, the defendant asked the Magistrate "to take the trouble" to seek a woman who was with him. Inspector Wills said the woman was outside the Court; the police had brought her in case she was required. The defendant, however, did not ask that she should give evidence, and he was then committed for trial.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE.

A SHANGHAI STATEMENT.

SUSPENSION ONLY TEMPORARY.

When the Shanghai branch of the Banque Industrielle de Chine suspended payment the following statement was issued by the manager:

"The manager of the Shanghai branch of the Banque Industrielle de Chine begs to inform the public that he has received advices from the head office in Paris that the bank there has filed a petition in the Tribunal de Commerce de la Seine for a transactional settlement with its creditors."

"The petition was made necessary because the bank was obliged to meet unusual obligations due to the economic crisis throughout the world."

"The law providing for a transactional settlement, which was passed on July 2, 1919 and resulted from conditions during the war, means only a temporary suspension of business."

"The Board of Administration is, in the meantime, working out a definite scheme for the reorganization of the bank."

"The public will be advised as soon as possible of the arrangements being made for the protection of creditors in China as well as holders of Banque Industrielle bank notes."

"All securities deposited in the bank, not against any advances or loan, will be returned to the owners on application."

"Officials of the bank expressed the opinion that business would be resumed shortly as negotiations are already in progress with the bank's creditors under the transactional settlement law."

"It is understood that the institution in China is in excellent condition."

THE ALLIES & GERMANY.

Only three journals in the Far East—the Japan Chronicle, the China Mail and the Straits Echo—have hitherto, so far as we are aware, taken an "unpopular" view of the relations between Great Britain and Germany. That is impossible to exclude our late enemy from the country of nations was first suggested, as regards the Straits Echo, in a leading article published early in 1919 with the heading "For a Permanent Peace"; it was set forth, supported by a masterly array of figures and merciless logic, by Mr. J. M. Keynes in his "Economic Consequences of the Peace"; and it has now been publicly adopted by Mr. Winston Churchill. Addressing a gathering in Lancashire, whose businessmen can already see the damage inflicted on British trade by the export duty on German goods imposed as part of the latest sanctions, the Colonial Secretary practically endorsed in full Mr. Keynes's theory that Europe forms one economic entity, whose component parts must stand or fall together, and that a prosperous and industrially active Germany is essential to the prosperity of Great Britain and France. It is something to have a public declaration in this sense from a Cabinet Minister of Mr. Churchill's standing and influence, for there are plenty of apostles of "hate" left in England, followers of the Morning Post and Mr. Bottomley, and a great many more in France, where the mere suggestion of co-operation with Germany is certain to be greeted with scorn and derision in the militarist circle led by Marshal Foch and M. Poincaré. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Churchill's courageous speech will be denounced as a sign of an unnatural and disgraceful tenderness for Germany, whereas, of course, it is merely due to a proper regard for the interests of Great Britain, and, incidentally, of France also, which, as two great trading nations simply cannot afford to allow one of their best customers and a country from which they draw a large portion of their indispensable raw materials to perish economically. France finds this bitter pill to swallow and, remembering what she suffered at her neighbour's hand, not merely during the war, but from 1870 to 1914, her attitude of suspicion and hatred may easily be understood. But facts, especially economic facts, are stubborn things and France must either change her policy or go bankrupt. For her financial position is appalling and while it is obviously within her power, so long as the Allies stand behind her, as it is apparently her desire, to crush Germany utterly beneath an impresible burden of reparations and indemnities, the result would be ruin for herself and probably for the rest of Europe.

In this connection it is interesting to read in an exchange that Sir Harry Brittan, Coalition Unionist member of Parliament for Acton, who has been travelling through the former enemy countries, is quoted as observing that, whereas the Austrians are "waiting to be spooned at every angle," the Germans are pulling themselves together and he could not put down the feeling that this once great and powerful nation would be great and powerful again.

But Austria was also a great and powerful nation before the war.

It is because Marshal Foch and others share the same impression as Sir Harry Brittan that they want to blockade, occupy, and generally ruin Germany so as to make sure that she shall not become great and powerful, but shall be humble and grateful for the administration of "Save the Children" funds.

All the talk about getting the indemnities and Germany failing to fulfil his pledges is nonsense. It is true it is popular nonsense, because it holds out an illusion that fantastic indemnities may be recovered. But the chief reason for the demand of impossible indemnities is that France insists on Germany being reduced to the same condition as Austria; so that she may be quite safe. For the same reason France has encouraged the Polish insurrection in Upper Silesia, which is intended to deprive Germany of the means of meeting her obligations and so render her once more liable to be treated as a defaulting debtor.

No doubt the proposition appears eminently reasonable from the French point of view. But there are other nations in the world besides these two, and they have a right to say whether they consider that the world at large would be benefitted, or humanity advanced, by the deliberate ruin and degradation of a great nation.

But we are not without hope that gradually the wiser and saner view advocated by Mr. Churchill will find more general acceptance in France, where it is held at present only by the advanced political parties, which realise that France will have lost rather than gained by the outcome of the war if as a result she inherits the militarist policy of Germany and sacrifices her proud position as the leader of European thought and the champion of liberty. It will be interesting to see how papers like the Morning Post and the Times greet Mr. Churchill's anti-Jingo declaration.

A COMMONS INNOVATION.

MEMBERS' SPEECHES.

PROPOSED FIXING OF AUTOMATIC RECORDER.

The parliamentary correspondent of The Times writes as follows:—

The suggestion made to the Speaker by Commander Carlyon Bellairs that automatic recorders of the length of members' speeches should be fixed in prominent positions in the House of Commons has been received with as much approval as amusement. The Speaker invited the member for Midsomer to confer with the Office of Works with the object of putting a specific suggestion before him.

It will be necessary to devise a type of recorder that shall be in harmony with the character of the Chamber. It will require to be automatic, like the recorders on the Underground lines that show the number of minutes since the last train passed, and it must also be adapted for illumination. It is suggested that it should strike a sweet but distinct note each quarter of an hour. Some would put an appropriate motto round it. As to the practical effect of installing recorders, the general opinion appears to be that they would admonish members against overmuch speaking, but here and there is a fear that they may stir up a record-breaking rivalry, not for brevity, but for length of speeches. It will be for the Speaker himself to decide whether, if a suitable recorder is produced, it shall be employed, though he would only act in such a matter in accordance with his understanding of the feeling of members.

"I have watched it closely. I do not say there is not trouble to-day in many places, but I see far fewer countries in trouble now than there were then, and I can see signs of a gradual emergence from those troubles which we saw a year ago. (Cheers.)

"I am more of an optimist to-day in spite of passing troubles than I have been at any time for years.

We have our troubles at home and many abroad. We are told we are dependent on the conditions abroad, but many troubles abroad are in course of settlement.

"In the last few months an agreement has been reached with Germany, and I believe that if we can follow up that step with the assistance of the League of Nations we shall be doing not only Eastern Europe but ourselves an infinity of good." (Cheers.)

WORLD OUTPUT BRIGHTER.

GOVERNOR OF BANK TAKES OPTIMISTIC VIEW.

A cheerful outlook upon the general situation at home and abroad was taken by Mr. Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, at the annual dinner of the Association of Bankers held at the Fishmongers' Hall.

Responding for the toast of "The Guests," Mr. Norman said: "I remember twelve months ago in what ever direction you looked there was nothing but darkness. We were fearful at the condition of Europe, to say nothing of America. Comparing our position with then, I think, in every direction the condition has improved. I really do.

"I have watched it closely. I do not say there is not trouble to-day in many places, but I see far fewer countries in trouble now than there were then, and I can see signs of a gradual emergence from those troubles which we saw a year ago. (Cheers.)

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail)

RANGOON RICE MARKET.

London, July 7th. The Government of India has prohibited the export of rice from Burma except to India, it is understood, owing to conditions in some of the districts. The rice market in Rangoon has, consequently, fallen to Rs. 500 per hundred catties.

RIOTS IN ALIGARH.

London, July 7th. The India Office announces that serious disturbances have taken place in Aligarh, United Provinces, which have arisen from the trial of a political agitator. A mob burned the police office, the post office and other buildings. Several were killed. The Commissioner is proceeding to Aligarh, where a detachment of armed police is being sent.

MADRAS STRIKE.

MADRAS, July 7th. The industrial troubles as a result of the strike of cotton operatives continue. Two hundred persons assaulted a cotton engineer, and 1,400 workers at the Choolai Mills have joined the strikers.

NEW LONDON DOCK.

London, July 7th. Their Majesties will open a new dock, so far undertaken by the Port of London Authority, and will enable 60,000 tonners to be berthed within 64 miles of the heart of the city. It provides a year dock of 64 acres of a depth of 38 feet, with fourteen berths for the largest steamers, also a dry dock 75 feet long and capable of extension.

BANQUE INDUSTRIELLE DE CHINE.

PARIS, July 7th. The newspapers state that M. Briand read to the Senatorial Commission two telegrams in regard to the Banque Industrielle de Chine. Firstly, assuring the French agents in the East of the solidarity of the French State with the great financial establishments, including the Banque Industrielle de Chine, and, secondly, asking the French Ambassador in London if support of high financial circles in London could be counted on to solve the difficulties of the bank. The second telegram was sent on January 13th, but as the French Ambassador had just taken up new duties it was impossible for him to give the required information.

M. Briand indicated the probable constitution of a vast Consortium to take over the affairs of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

London, July 7th. The proceedings at the Empire Conference at Downing Street, yesterday afternoon, related entirely to Egypt. It was decided that the proposals for meeting Egyptian national aspirations and safeguarding Imperial interests, now being considered by the British Government, should be discussed in detail at a later date by the Dominions' Ministers and the representatives of India before the arrival of the Egyptian delegates.

The conference had met at the Treasury in the morning, and discussed for two hours German reparations and the allocation of German indemnities to the Dominions, India and the Crown Colonies. The Council had adjourned without arriving at a decision.

The naval defence of the Empire is now occupying the attention of the Imperial Conference. It is believed that the Conference has decided in favour of the principle of local defence. The discussion centred round the topics of mine-sweeping, wireless telegraphy, hydrography and naval tanks. The last-named topic has assumed a position of outstanding importance in view of the decided opinion of naval authorities that oil will replace coal as the driving power of the future.

Most of the questions have been referred to a sub-Committee, under the chairmanship of Lord Lee, on which the Dominions' will be represented and which will have the advantage of the practical experience of Lord Beatty.

IRISH PEACE CONFERENCES.

LONDON, July 7th. Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, and others concerned with the Irish situation, are now conferring with General Smuts at the latter's headquarters in London. General Smuts, at the conclusion of the conference, will proceed to the Palace to report personally to His Majesty the King.

LONDON. His Majesty the King received General Smuts.

BAG STOPS TRAFFIC.

SCATTERED TRINKETS IN THE STRAND.

A handbag and its contents held up the traffic for several minutes in the Strand. As a well-dressed woman stepped across the road in front of the Savoy Hotel her bag slipped from her hand, fell open, and scattered over the road her many trinkets. A bottle of perfume fell out, but did not break; a comb, a mirror, a puff, two small boxes (one of which revealed its contents) and a floury little heap in the road, three half-crowns, a thin gold chain, a diary, and a handkerchief. Two turquois rings rolled towards the wheels of a motor-omnibus.

Orbital buses began to gather in front of the scattered treasure, and the woman was so flustered that she could not remove her gloves. A man bravely stepped forward to her assistance. She immediately left the bus to hivare and did to the pavement, where she walked until he brought it back to her with all its contents.

TURKISH DELIGHT.

With shame we confess it, we are not at all sure that we know what "Turkish delight" is. The name sounds familiar, but the nature of the thing itself is to us a mystery. Has anything to do, perhaps, with the news from Angora (where the cats and rabbits appropriately come from) that the Turkish Parliament has passed an anti-bachelor Bill, including a clause or clauses designed to encourage well-to-do Turks, "for

Neville Rolfe, the lady who talks ignorantly about our Hongkong population and infantile mortality, and what we may perhaps euphemize as Turkish diseases, assuming, as we are reasonably entitled to do, that that lady is not a Turkish lady, but a good typical lady of our own sort, why then the answer must come out because it is so easy, that we rather think we would rather not, even were Mrs. Neville Rolfe a Turkish lady, and our laws Turkish too. For it should be a matter of sure and certain conviction that whereas Turkish pleasures may be like poppies spread, the business is not ended when the flower is culled, but continues even as when a man hath meddled with coal-tar, or fly-papers, or a bush of prickly-pears, and there can be no image sadder than that of the mess lying where a man has taken his watch to pieces, unless it were a world full of squalling Turks, which surely no honest Christian desires to see or hear of. If the Turks be by nature more enterprising at the taking of life than at the bestowing of it, as some say, and we believe, and if this legislation of theirs, at which the ribald have laughed, but over which men of serious minds have shaken much concerned heads, have any likelihood of achieving its object, or objects, then it would seem the League of Nations or the Supreme Council might do well to move for an injunction. Because, mark you well for remembrance, the old collection of definitions of this world's loveliest sights, that one mentioning a field of ripening corn, a ship in full sail, and other things, is, since some years, held by thoughtful men to be incomplete unless it include in a prominent position, well to the fore, a Turkish funeral. With which opinion we are well disposed to agree, so it be recognized that there exist, as well as the Turks of Turkey, Turks that were never there at all, but arise sporadically elsewhere, after the fashion of toadstools, to offend us with their characteristically Turkish turkishness. Both male and female are they created, and apparently they reproduce their kind without difficulty and without such special legislation as this from Angora, that we have been, considering and discussing.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Captain E.R.G. Evans, C.B., D.S.O., R.N. of H.M.S. "Carlisle," is on leave in Shanghai.

A quantity of office and household furniture will be sold by Messrs. Lambrt Bros. to-morrow morning.

An advertisement in this issue announces that the Hongkong Dollar Directory has been acquired as from July 7 by the Newspaper Enterprise, Ltd.

The sum of $10,000 has been paid by the Peking Government on account of the killing of a Japanese military officer by a Chinese soldier at Sufang, Manchuria.

Mr. J. Swire, senior partner of the firm of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, Ltd., arrived in the Colony yesterday morning by the "Empress of Japan," from Yokohama. Mr. Swire, who is accompanied by Mrs. Swire, Miss Swire and Miss Logan, a niece, will stay a few days here.

Another tragic drowning fatality on the Huangpu is reported by the N.C.D. News. Lewis Maransel, a private in the United States Marine Corps attached to the U.S.S. "New Orleans," was returning to the ship one night last week, when he fell into the river and was drowned.

A very happy though quiet wedding took place on July 2 at H. B. M. Consulate-General, Shanghai, by Sir Everard Fraser, K.C.M.G., and afterwards at Holy Trinity Cathedral by the Rev. C. E. Shewer, when Mr. Thomas H. R. Candio, second son of the Rev. G. T. Candio, D.B., of Peking, was married to Miss Edith H. Bates, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bates of Shepherd's Bush, London. The bride arrived only a few days ago from England and the bridegroom from Peking.

Mr. Heinemann tells the China Mail that Sir Hall Caine's new novel, THE MASTER OF MAN, if the publisher's expectations are fulfilled, is likely to come as a surprise both to the book-sellers and the public as a piece of book manufacture. It is to be published at the old pre-War price of 6/- and yet it is promised that it will be, in point of print, paper and binding, at least equal to the books that were published at that price before the War. It will probably be said that this will be due to production of mass, for the first impression is to consist of one hundred thousand copies, and no doubt that fact will afford a partial explanation. But if it can be shown that, notwithstanding the large increase in the cost of labour and material, it is still possible to publish novels in general at the old price, the book trade may fairly expect to gain by the effect to the soaring prices of novels which will probably result. THE MASTER OF MAN will be published late in July.

CANTON'S CONTRIBUTION.

VISCOUNT KNUTSFORD'S THANKS.

In connection with the musical entertainment given in the Canton Club Theatre on March 16, the following letters have been received (with receipts for 2501-1-9) by Mrs. Pegge in the last mail, and are now published to convey the London Hospital Chairman's thanks to all those who so generously contributed.

London Hospital, Whitechapel, E. 1, 18 May, 1921.

I really don't know how to thank you as I should like for the magnificent cheque you have sent me. Such generous help from so far afield does touch me very much and is real encouragement to a despairing Chairman, who is often tempted to throw up the sponge.

I do hope you will be able to convey my most sincere thanks to all who have helped and please accept yourself a very special "Thank you" for all the trouble I know you must have taken to achieve so splendid a result. Yours very truly,

KNUTSFORD.

25 May, 1921.

Again thank you indeed for sending me the balance of proceeds of the entertainment you organized for this grand old hospital. Please tell all who have helped you how grateful I am. What good friends you are.

Yours very truly,

KNUTSFORD.

TRONES WOOD BATTLE.

WILTSHIRES GREAT DAY.

REGIMENTAL CELEBRATIONS HELD.

In the mental calendar of members of the 2nd Battalion of the Wiltshire Regiment to-day is not merely the 8th of July. It is "Trones Wood" Day—the fifth anniversary of the memorable, costly assault in which the Regiment distinguished itself so notably during the Somme campaign of 1916.

As was the case last year, the morning was devoted to the ceremonial side of the celebrations—to a parade on the Murray Parade Ground at 9.30 and a memorial service at St. John's Cathedral at 10.15. Soon after the Battalion had mustered this morning, the C. O. Lieut-Col. Wyndham read out to the troops an account of the operation which was being commemorated. Then the General Officer Commanding (Major-General Sir G. M. Kirkpatrick) arrived and was greeted with a general salute. The King's Colour and the Regimental Flag were moved out to the front of the Battalion, which had formed up on three sides of the square and first a Royal Salute and then a General Salute were given. Following the National Anthem the band played the "Marseillaise" (out of compliment to the French regiments who supported them at Trones Wood) and then "Rule Britannia."

Addressing the parade at a later stage Major-General Kirkpatrick referred briefly to the Trones Wood action and told how, early in the morning of July 8 five years ago, the men of the 2nd Battalion advanced to the attack after previous efforts had failed. By skillful leading and gallant conduct on the part of all ranks, the important position was gained and although the unit was subjected to merciless fire they held on throughout that day and until dawn on July 9 when they were relieved. Mentioning the Battalion's earlier records on the Peninsula, and in India, China and South Africa the General pointed out that as one of the King's regiments it had a continuous life the nature of which depended upon all its ranks and all its actions. He urged them to live up to their past proud record of gallantry and devotion to duty. By valuing the King's colour they had signified their devotion to their King and country; by similarly honouring their Regimental flag they were signifying their service of duty to their Regiment and their intention to prove themselves worthy of its traditions. They were presently to attend a memorial service and there they would show that they revered and cherishing the memory of those comrades who had fallen at Trones Wood. They would also be recognizing the God of Battles. Who, when they were fighting for the Right, would always give them victory. To-day they had signified to their comrades and testified to the world that they were ready to do their duty.

MURDER CHARGE.

SUPPOSED ROBBER CHIEF'S DEATH.

ALLEGED SEQUEL TO HEAVY GAMBLING.

Wilful murder was the charge brought against a Chinese named Yeong Shui Cheong before Magistrate Orme this morning. The murdered man Ngai Tin-lam, alias Li Tin-lam, alias Li Fook-lan, an alleged notorious robber chief, was found on the night of July 5 by a Chinese constable lying in a pool of blood outside No. 52, Reclamation Street, Yau-mati, with three bullet wounds in his body. The deceased who was conscious when removed to the Police Station, gave the name of his assailant to the police before he died at the Kwong Wah Hospital the following morning. The cause of the murder, according to the deceased was heavy gambling in which he lost over $2,000. Death resulted from a wound which entered his head which required treatment at the Government Civil Hospital.

A reminder is given that the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club subscription dance takes place this evening at the North Point Club House. Evening dress is optional.

The manager of Repulse Bay Hotel informed the police yesterday that a kitchen boy named Ho Cho, 19 years of age, a native of Sanwei, was accidentally drowned yesterday morning while bathing on the beach. His body has not yet been recovered.

THE KWANGS WAR.

CANTONESE CLAIM SUCCESSES.

LARGE CAPTURE OF MUNITIONS.

The hope of the Kwangsi militarists to penetrate Kwangtung from the north and make connection with the Kwangsi province was shattered on July 4, when the enemy troops led by Shum Hung-yeng were totally defeated by the Cantonese troops led by General Teng Heng near Yangshan," says the Canton Times. The casualties sustained by the enemy were 400 killed and more than 1,000 prisoners. Four machine guns, ten field guns and innumerable rifles and munitions were also captured.

"The troops led by Shum Hung-yeng were said to be among the best of the Kwangsi troops. Now that they are defeated there is no hope of the invaders swooping down on Kwangtung from the north. The remaining enemy troops sent to the aid of Shum Hung-yeng are now in Lin Shan toward which place the Cantonese troops are advancing. Encouraged by this brilliant success near Yangshan the Cantonese troops are in better spirits than those of the invading army who are now practically demoralised."

While the people of Canton were celebrating the victory of the Cantonese troops in the north, there came report from Gen. Wang Ta-wai of Kowchow stating that another victory had been won by his troops on July 4. According to this report a fierce battle was fought at Bi Ka Shan outside Kowchow resulting in a great victory for the Cantonese. A large number of rifles are reported to have been taken together with about ten field guns.

A non-fatal case of diphtheria, British, was reported yesterday.

In attempting to evade arrest, a returned banished fell while negotiating a wall and received injuries to his head which required treatment at the Government Civil Hospital.

A reminder is given that the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club subscription dance takes place this evening at the North Point Club House. Evening dress is optional.

THE FIT ON STEAMER.

SINGAPORE DEPORTEES PREY ON PASSENGERS.

MAGISTRATE ON "SCANDALOUS SUBJECT."

Between $400 and $500 worth of property was alleged to have been stolen from passengers on the "Gregory Ape" by a number of Chinese deportees from Singapore six of whom were charged this morning before Magistrate Lindsell, at the instance of Inspector Spear, of the water Police, with having stolen a quantity of clothing and sundry other property on July 3, while the vessel was on the high seas.

The Inspector said that things were regularly reported missing by the passengers after the vessel had been two days out of Singapore. The deportees were suspected. Accordingly the Captain informed the authorities in Hongkong and on the ship's arrival here, the police launch went alongside. Unfortunately, through a mistake, boarding house runners were also allowed on board, with the result that most of the deportees got away and the police were able to arrest only the six deportees with $65 worth of property.

Had it not been for this unfortunate misunderstanding, the police would have arrested more culprits.

The Magistrate: Are the deportees allowed to roam about the ship at will?

Inspector Spear: Apparently they are.

The Magistrate: An extraordinary privilege!

In sentencing one of the men to three months' hard labour and the others to six weeks each, the Magistrate directed that representations should be made to the Singapore authorities against a repetition of "such scandalous neglect."

"It is disgraceful for 40 or 50 deportees to be let loose on a ship to prey like wolves on the other passengers," he added.

Mr. J. Cameron has been appointed supernumerary third engineer, "Tungshing."

Mr. W. Dykes has been appointed supernumerary fourth engineer, "Tungshing."

Mr. J. S. Macdonald, from leave, has gone second engineer, "Koon-shing."

A MYTHICAL ROBBERY.

STORY OF A LOST WATCH.

COMPLAINANT "A LIAR AND SCOUNDREL."

A liar and a scoundrel! These epithets were used by Magistrate Lindell yesterday afternoon to a portly Chinese who told a story of having been robbed on Caine Road on the night of June 28, when he alleged that he was attacked by four armed men and relieved of a gold watch and a feather fan.

One of the four alleged robbers charged yesterday with robbery with violence, indignantly denied the offence.

The complainant, who described himself as a silk merchant, told a curious story in the witness box. He said he turned out of Caine Road at 10.30 p.m. on June 28 "into a steep street which he did not know, but there were chairs on either side of it" (it was said afterwards by a constable to be Peel Street). Two men were coming up the hill; each drew out a dagger and pointed it at him. He shouted out "snatching."

"Why 'snatching'?" asked the Magistrate.

"I did not know what they wanted," replied the defendant, "so I shouted 'snatching'." He continued: Both men ran up the hill, but two other men, following them, made a spring at me. The first one seized hold of my left wrist and the other snatched away my police whistle which I had just pulled out. The first man (who was in the dock) snatched away my gold wrist watch. I gave chase; the man fell down, and I fell on top of him. He got up and dragged me along as I seized him. A constable arrived and I gave the defendant in charge.

What happened to the watch?" asked the Magistrate.

The complainant said he did not know.

"Did you ask the constable to search him?" The reply was in the negative. "You must be a liar," said the Magistrate. The complainant demurred to this. "Either a thief or a fool," then, "referred the Magistrate, "—whatever you prefer. You say this man took your watch and yet you made no effort, when you caught him, to get it back. Did you search the ground in the vicinity?" Apparently, the complainant had not thought of this.

"I believe very little of what you say," said the Magistrate. "I can't help that," replied the man.

THROWN OFF ROOF.

WOMAN'S TERRIBLE DEATH.

STRANGLED BODY FALLS AT NEIGHBOUR'S FEET.

A grisly experience fell to the lot of a woman dweller in a block of flats in West 60th Street, New York.

As she was taking in the morning milk there was a rushing sound, and the body of a woman landed at her feet.

The victim had been strangled.

Half an hour later a policeman a mile away, seeing a man hollering with bruised face and bloodstained hands, arrested him.

The man admitted he had lured the woman to the top of the building, strangled her, and pushed the body over the roof.

The detective in charge of the case said he understood that the complainant had been molested by the same party since.

Mr. Lyson (for the defence) refuted that that would not be evidence against the defendant who had been in police custody ever since.

"Have you seen any of these people since?" asked the magistrate.

"I did not know what they wanted," replied the defendant, "so I shouted 'snatching'." He continued: Both men ran up the hill, but two other men, following them, made a spring at me. The first one seized hold of my left wrist and the other snatched away my police whistle which I had just pulled out. The first man (who was in the dock) snatched away my gold wrist watch. I gave chase; the man fell down, and I fell on top of him. He got up and dragged me along as I seized him. A constable arrived and I gave the defendant in charge.

What happened to the watch?" asked the Magistrate.

The complainant said he did not know.

"Did you ask the constable to search him?" The reply was in the negative. "You must be a liar," said the Magistrate. The complainant demurred to this. "Either a thief or a fool," then, "referred the Magistrate, "—whatever you prefer. You say this man took your watch and yet you made no effort, when you caught him, to get it back. Did you search the ground in the vicinity?" Apparently, the complainant had not thought of this.

"I believe very little of what you say," said the Magistrate. "I can't help that," replied the man.

EMPIRE CONFERENCE.

IMPORTANT FAR EASTERN DECISION REACHED.

FREE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA.

LONDON, July 8.
The Daily Chronicle gives prominence to very important conclusions reached at the Empire conference. The Dominion premiers have come to a general agreement with the British Government on large questions of foreign policy, including the Pacific and Far Eastern questions and problems of defence. The conference view is that Japan's special friendship for the Empire should be recognised with the free development of China combined with close co-operation between the Empire and the United States. Most of the Dominion representatives express the opinion that the Anglo-Japanese Alliance will be modified in accordance with the League of Nations.

MIDDLE EAST POLICY.

It generally accepted the Government's policy in the Middle East, especially as regards the Mesopotamia and Palestine mandates. The spirit of this policy is fully to honour all undertakings while committing the Empire to the smallest burden of responsibility and expenditure. The Dominion representatives have been especially appreciative of Lord Curzon's very frank statements on foreign affairs.

NO IMMIGRATION DIFFICULTY.

No difficulty has arisen as regards Dominions immigration laws as both India and Japan accepted the right of the Dominions to choose the character of their own populations while there has been a widespread desire for enlarged Empire press services.

The Conference is expected to sit another fortnight.

JAPAN ALLIANCE.

PREMIER TO MAKE A FULL STATEMENT.

LONDON, July 7.

In the House of Commons, replying to a number of questions regarding the present position of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance Mr. Lloyd George hoped soon to be able to make a statement regarding the treaty, possible on July 11. This depended on the replies received from the United States, Japan, and China, but a premature declaration would interfere with the success of negotiations now proceeding.

MR. HUGHES'S COURSE ENDORSED.

MELBOURNE, July 8.

The Federal Nationalist Party presided over by Sir Joseph Cook, the acting premier, passed a resolution unanimously endorsing the course taken by Mr. Hughes in London on the question of the Anglo-Japan Alliance.

FAR EASTERN REPUBLIC.

NO-RECOGNITION YET FROM BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, July 7.

In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. J. E. Mills (Labour) Mr. Collyer, Parliamentary and Financial Secretary to the Admiralty, stated that the Government did not propose to recognise the Far Eastern Republic at all as it was not satisfied as regards its stability and direct British interests were not great.
